A to Z . . .

Clout city . . . A first? Sneed hears Secretary of State Jim Edgar's office is telling Gov.-elect Edgar's top supporters they have the green light to issue 26 "single letter" license plates from A to Z—AND the top Edgarites will get one if they want one!

- The response: "It's true we MAY issue 'single letter' plates," said a top Edgar source. "But they will NOT be issued just for Edgar contributors."
- Hmmmm. Could the "Z" be given to the guy whose donation contained the most zeroes?

Maggie memo . . .

Dateline: D.C.—Hmmm. Word is Britain's former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher is being considered as a possible keynote speaker at the next Republican National Convention! Now there's a draw.

Shaw maw . . .

Ticket amnesty! Watch for Ald. Robert Shaw (9th) around the state Capitol on Tuesday autographing copies of his State of the State book, a retrospective of the gov's 14 years in office printed with funds from Thompson's campaign coffers.

Trump twaddle . . .

It's true: Marla Maples and Ivana Trump (and kids) were in Aspen over the holidays—but none was seen with Donald Trump.

Vanna vignettes . . .

Dateline: Aspen—Sneed's ski slope snoop claims that when Vanna White married L.A. restaurateur George Santo Pietro on New Year's Eve in Aspen, actor George Hamilton caught the garter belt. Word is Hamilton was the only single fella at the wedding. But during the holidays, Hamilton was seen with ex-wife Alana Stewart, also the ex-wife of rocker Rod Stewart.

- Hmm. Only 18 people attended the wedding and sidekick Pat Sajak was NOT there.

Stallone saga . . .

Aspenantics: Sneed hears singer Kenny Loggins, who performed concerts for Aspen schools during the Christmas season, made a con-

WORLD: Lithuanian Kazimiera Prunskiene the Lithuanian Parliament and her Cabinet resignation legislature voted down reform package.
